Employee Review Rating Rubric - Normal Employees

A 3 is a good, normal rating. A rating of 3 means you are meeting the expectations of your position.

1 = Seriously below expectations 2 = Needs improvement 3 = Meets expectations 4 = Exceeds expectations 5 = Exceptional

Category	1 - Seriously Below Expectations	2 - Needs Improvement	3 - Meets Expectations	4 - Exceeds Expectations	5 - Exceptional
Work Quality	Frequent poor work, major misses, or rework needed.	Recurring mistakes; often needs checking or correction.	Completes mowing, edging, trimming, blowing, and cleanup to an acceptable professional standard. Usually does not need rework.	Produces very clean work consistently, catches small details, and rarely needs to be checked behind.	Sets the standard for finished quality. Notices and corrects details others miss, and other employees can model their work after them.
Productivity	Consistently far behind or slows the crew.	Often too slow, distracted, or inefficient.	Works at a normal, steady pace, keeps up with the crew, and completes a fair share of the workload without sacrificing quality.	Consistently works faster than normal while maintaining quality and helps the crew complete stops more efficiently.	Sets the pace for the crew. Maintains exceptional output throughout the day and raises the productivity of the people working around them.
Reliability	Frequently absent, late, unprepared, or cannot be counted on.	Recurring attendance, punctuality, or follow-through issues.	Shows up when scheduled, is generally on time and prepared, and can be counted on to complete assigned work.	Very dependable. Rarely late or absent, communicates problems early, and consistently follows through without needing reminders.	Sets the standard for dependability. Can be trusted in difficult or unusual situations and sets the example for attendance, preparation, communication, and follow-through.
Teamwork / Cooperation	Creates conflict, refuses direction, or hurts the crew.	Sometimes difficult to work with or unwilling to help.	Works well with others, follows direction, communicates appropriately, and does their share of the work.	Regularly helps coworkers, adjusts to what the crew needs, and makes the team run more smoothly without being told.	Sets the teamwork standard. Actively keeps the crew coordinated, helps weaker employees succeed, and makes the people around them more effective.
Professional Conduct	Serious or repeated attitude, respect, or customer issues.	Recurring attitude or professionalism problems.	Maintains an appropriate attitude, treats coworkers and customers respectfully, and behaves professionally.	Remains mature and respectful even when frustrated, tired, corrected, or dealing with difficult situations. Represents the company well consistently.	Sets the professional standard for the crew. Handles conflict, customers, mistakes, and stressful situations with exceptional maturity and serves as an example for others.
Responsibility / Initiative	Avoids responsibility and needs constant direction.	Frequently needs prompting or does not take ownership.	Handles assigned work without excessive supervision and takes reasonable care of equipment and responsibilities.	Regularly notices what needs to be done and handles it without being asked. Takes ownership of problems and follows through.	Operates at a standard-setter level. Anticipates needs or problems, takes ownership before being directed, solves routine issues independently, and encourages the same responsibility from others.
Coachability	Rejects or ignores correction.	Struggles to accept or apply feedback.	Accepts correction, listens to feedback, and generally applies what was taught.	Takes feedback seriously, improves noticeably, and usually does not need the same correction repeatedly.	Sets the standard for learning and improvement. Applies feedback quickly and permanently, actively seeks useful feedback, and helps reinforce good methods with others.